

OIL AND GAS

Western Colorado has been a sought-after region for oil and gas development for decades. Federal and state regulation and compliance has become more and more complex. We stay abreast of the constantly changing regulatory environment and we understand the sensitivity and fragility that local, national, and global economic impacts have on the industry. In addition, we work closely with land owners and oil and gas management to reap the most beneficial tax and advisory solutions for both.

Services we provide to oil and gas suppliers, contractors, and other industry support businesses:
